

His 3110, Mid-Term Review, 1660-1783 (Note: all class cancelled Feb. 13; exam Feb. 15)
[update: those with ~~strikeout~~ will not be on the exam]

Part I short answer, id, and multiple choice [Be able to define the terms below] (40%).

1660-1714:

- Test Act, Exclusion Crisis, Jacobite, Whig, Tory
- William and Mary, the Protestant Wind, Bill of Rights, Mutiny Act, Triennial Act, Battle of the Boyne, Toleration Act, Nine Years War (or War of English Succession or War of the League of Augsburg)
- Act of Settlement, Treaty of Utrecht, War of the Spanish Succession, Duke and Duchess of Marlborough, Financial Revolution, Bank of England
- party politics (Whigs vs. Tories), Dissenters (sectaries), Church of England (Anglicanism), Court vs. Country, High and Low Church, “Church in Danger,” Occasional Conformists, Deism, Latitudinarian

1714-1760:

- entail, enclosure, crop rotation, London, ~~Poor Law (Act of Settlement of 1662)~~, Black Act, turnpikes, mercantilism
- Hanover, George I, Riot Act and Septennial Act, George II, Septennial Act, Sir Robert Walpole (“Sreenmaster-General,” “Macheath”), Jacobite Rebellion (1690, 1715, 1745), South Sea (Company) Bubble (Crisis), management, Beggar’s Opera
- Robinocracy or Old Corps Whigs (corruption or political stability?), the Pelhams (Henry and the Duke of Newcastle), blue water policy vs. Hanoverian interests asiento and war of Jenkin’s Ear and the war of the Austrian Succession, the unreformed House of Commons (franchise, composition, pocket and rotten boroughs), the Independent MP
- Augustan Age: ~~Palladian architecture, Horatian Odes (Alexander Pope)~~
- Prince of Wales and Leicester House

1760-1783:

- William Pitt the Elder, Lord Bute, John Wilkes, Hessians, George III, Declaratory Act (1766), Minorca (from War of Spanish Succession)
- Lord North, ~~Gordon Riots~~, Lord Shelburne, Treaty of Paris (1783)
- ~~private acts of Parliament~~, East India Company, ~~India Act~~

Part II matching politicians and monarchs with achievements (20%).

Charles II, James duke of Monmouth, James II, William and Mary, James III & VIII (the Old Pretender), (John and Sarah Churchill) duke and duchess of Marlborough, Anne, George I, Sir Robert Walpole, William Pitt the Elder, Lord Bute, John Wilkes, George III, Lord North, Lord Shelburne, Charles Edward Stuart/Bonnie Prince Charlie

Part III (40%) Write one essay comparing two short passages out of several selected from:

Past Speaks, ch. 1 (Evelyn, Burnet, Bill of Rights); ch. 2 (King, Young, Defoe–both); ch. 5 (Junius, Burke, Tucker, Jefferson only, 1769-1776)

Explain, compare and contrast both text (the writers' point of view, audience, argument, and intention) and context (the particular historical era or crisis indicated by the document), and, if possible, any particular biases of the writer or holes in his or her argument. Focus on the passages cited.